

Superbowl Prediction

Eagles Vs Chiefs

This is a repeat from the superbowl just two seasons ago in which the Chiefs won. It has the makings of another classic.

The Eagles will feel confident heading into this one that they are in a better position with adding the amazing Saquon Barkley to their side.

The Chiefs however will be confident as always when having Patrick Mahomes and Travis Kelce in the side.

Both teams are playing good football at the right time. Both teams best games of the season arguably came in the Championship fixture as well which makes this an even great prospect.

There are quite a few key players for both sides in this one. Let's start with the Eagles.

Saquon Barkley- this man has been the best non qb in football and arguably the best player in football this year. He is going to be key once again as he makes the offence and the Eagles tick.

Cooper DeJean- probably his toughest test to date at the nickel spot going against Travis Kelce. DeJean Has been electric this season and will need to be at his best in this one.

DeVonta Smith- Smith is the flex one here, I like his match-up with Jaylen Watson as a key battle. This could be the match-up that wins or loses the superbowl in my opinion. Smith has to get open and be there for Jalen Hurts to find often.

Some of the Chiefs are mentioned above and there will be some Eagles mentioned below as well.

First up for the Chiefs

Xavier Worthy- Worthy as mentioned in the Championship review has become a really reliable and explosive target for the Chiefs and especially Patrick Mahomes. He has a real tough battle against one of the best rookies, and the hugely impressive Quinyon Mitchell.

Trent McDuffie- McDuffie goes up against another huge talent in A.J. Brown. McDuffie has been a lockdown corner especially down the stretch. If McDuffie keeps this up it could be tough for Hurts.

Chris Jones- Jones is a game wrecker. He always has been and always will be. He goes up against one of the best offensive lines in football. Jones will want to disrupt the line and cause chaos and get him or his edge players chances in the backfield.

Prediction:

Eagles 30-31 Chiefs.

Prediction is the Chiefs complete the 3peat.
